

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Factoryville scholastic clay target teams place in shooting event

Rookie team grabs first place

FACTORYVILLE SPORTSMAN CLUB---on an overcast day, 46 youths ranging from 9 to 17 years of age participated in the scholastic clay target shooting challenge at the Factoryville Sportsmen Club on May 14th. Shooters from Lehigh Valley, Lambs Creek Mansfield, Bath, and Factoryville shot the 100 clay target course comprised of various target presentations.

Four teams from the Factoryville Sportsman Club placed in the competition as follows:

- Rookie Class—first place. Team comprised of Hunter Vandorick, Michael Slowey, and Jeremiah Schwartz.
- Intermediate Advanced Class—2nd place. Team consisted of Kyle Hegedty, Kyle Scala, and Jericho Hendershot
- Intermediate Entry class—3rd place. Team consisted of Kyle Morgan, Nadia Davies, and Greg Tracy
- Junior Varsity Class—3rd place. Team consisted of Jimmy Lyons, Casey Deaton, and George Schwartz.

The Factoryville team continues to practice at the Club in preparation for the Pennsylvania state shoot, to be held at Rock Mountain Sporting Clays, Springville, on June 18th. This annual event will comprise of youth shooting teams from around the state. Last year at the state shoot, the team of Jimmy Lyons, Kyle Hegedty, and Casey Deaton placed 5th out of nine teams (27 shooters) in their class.

The coaches and team members want to thank the Factoryville Sportsman Club for the practice targets and those members who contributed to their program.

The Coaches this year are: John Hegedty, head coach, and assistant coaches Phil McCarthy, Butch Gorko, Chet Layaou, George Hegedty, and Rocco Grandi.

